The International Project Management Association (IPMA) is the World's first project management association, founded in 1965. It consists of over 55 Member Associations (MAs) from Europe to Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Australia, and North and South America. IPMA develops project management competencies, interacting with thousands of practitioners and developing relationships with corporations, government agencies, universities and colleges, as well as training organizations and consulting companies.

The Croatian Association for Project Management (CAPM), in cooperation with the University of Zagreb, the International Cost Engineering Council and the Baltazar Adam Krcelic College of Business and Management; and under the patronage of Government of the Republic of Croatia, is proud to host the 27th IPMA World Congress.

The main theme of the Congress is "Finding Balance and Moving Forward". Case studies, best practices, research results, new methodologies, tools and technology developments on project, programme and portfolio management are welcome. Both individuals and relevant organizations may contribute to the conference through academic papers and/or professional (position papers, presentations of best practices or significant case studies, posters, training materials, book & software presentations, tutorials, round tables, special sessions and workshops). Organizations may also consider presenting their standards, sponsorship of various competitions (research, student, young crew) and organization of round tables.
